Within these pages are recorded historical anecdotes of a personal nature. Personal, for they are subjective and were lived by former members of the 8th Air Force, circa 1942-1945. At 11.00am on Friday 11 November 1918 the guns along the Western Front fell silent. Germany, in retreat and humiliated by the failure of its great Spring Offensive, had sued for peace and an Armistice had finally been signed. The similarities are startling — particularly the segment that backtracks northwesterly through the Straits of Malacca. Still, it's hard to say how much of a smoking gun this is, because it's one of many routings that Zaharie had simulated.
